100 wooden mouse traps in a bucket

The classic rodent trap in a bulk pack – perfect for industrial use, property management and farmers

When large properties or public buildings need to be protected from rodents, mouse traps are needed in large numbers. As a farmer, landlord, real estate owner or municipality you are aware of this problem. As traps are usually disposed of along with the caught mouse, rodent traps are consumables which need to be restocked every now and then. For these reasons, the Gardigo wooden mouse traps are now available in a set of 100.

The snap traps are delivered in a handy bucket. This will save you annoying unpacking and packaging waste, as there is always use for a bucket.

The traps in this set are optimized for spreadable baits. Chocolate and hazelnut spread or liver sausage can simply be fit into the bait hollow.

Place the traps with the bait facing the wall and tension them. As mice prefer running alongside walls, you will be able to catch rodents coming from either direction.
