Cat Tree Barrier

Climbing barrier

Domestic cats often hunt for songbirds. When nests and nesting boxes need protection from the furry predators, we must prevent them from climbing the trees. This is what our Cat Tree Barrier is designed to do.

It's spikes look impressive, but they're not meant to harm the animal, as it actually is a climbing barrier.

The Gardigo Cat Tree Barrier is made of separate wire elements, which have to be assembled before the first use. This allows you to adjust the length to your needs. For large tree diameters the barrier can be extended with further sets.
