Heron Repellent Twist, Set of 2

THE eye-catcher for your garden pond

The Heron Repellent Twist is an elegant bird figure that gracefully spins in the wind, keeping unwanted guests like herons and other birds at a distance.

Its natural movements in the airflow make it appear like a living piece of art, effectively scaring off intruders – a captivating visual feature with practical benefits.

Installation is incredibly simple: the mount is easily attached to the figure. Then, the flexible plastic rod is inserted into soft ground – whether at the pond's edge, in a flower bed, or a plant pot.

Finally, just place the figure on the mount – and the dance in the wind begins.

A creative decorative element that not only protects but also enchants – ideal for gardens, patios, or pond landscapes.
