Humane Rat Live Cage Trap

The humane way to catch a rat

Rats have adapted perfectly to live in environments inhabited by humans. We provide great sources of food for them. They can bite themselves through the thickest barriers to get into pantries and storage spaces. They search for flushed down leftovers in the sewer system. Toilet bowls are their entrance ways into our living quarters. Even though they live in our direct vicinity, we hardly ever see a rat. They are so shy that they will only come out of their hiding when it is quiet and they feel safe. Then they do great damage. Rats cause problems of hygiene, as they carry bacteria and germs from the sewers into the house.

To get rid of rats or at least control their number to reduce the risk of pestilence, damage to foods or contamination, effective pest control is recommended. Our Rat Cage Trap is the humane way to treat rat problems. Put a piece of bait onto the actuator and activate the tensioning mechanism. Chocolate and hazelnut spread is irresistible to rats. When a rodent tries to steal the bait, the mechanism shuts the trap to capture the animal inside the cage. Now you can carry it to a place where it can do no damage and set it free.

Keep the trap away from children. Gardigo will take no responsibility for damages or injuries occurring due to improper use of the trap. Please also follow the rules and regulations for environmental protection of animals.

The trap can be reused over and over again. Please check the trap for caught rats regularly.
