Transparent Humane Mouse Live Trap

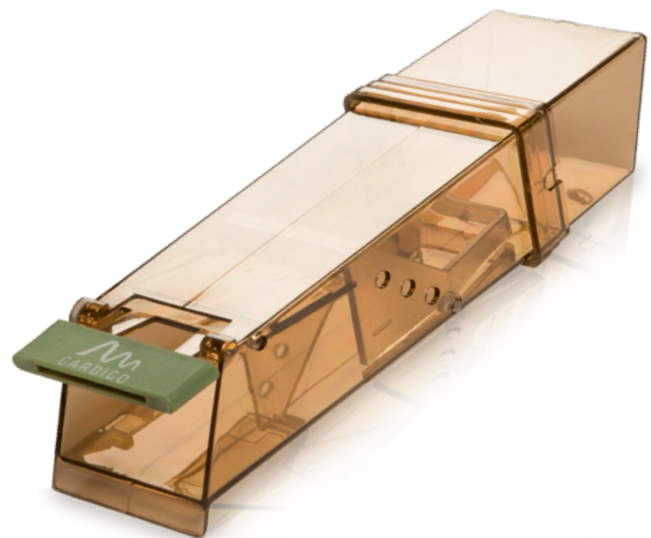

Reliable, alive, painlessly

A mouse in the house is an unwelcome guest. Mice can become a health hazard when they start raiding the larder or humans get into contact with their excrement. Getting rid of mice in your private environment is important to eliminate undesirable consequences.

Getting rid of a mouse does not necessarily mean killing it. Mice can be caught alive and released into the nature. The Gardigo Live Mouse Trap is a great helper for this task. The mouse enters the trap, releases the mechanism, the door shuts and the animal cannot escape. When it runs towards the bait, it will press down the trigger release and the door behind it will close. The trap can be re-used many times. The transparent housing allows a regular and easy check if any rodent has been caught. A humane way of catching mice!
