Butterfly House

Shelter for butterflies

It is easier to attract butterflies into the Butterfly House if you have a garden full of flowers, trees and bushes. The insects find areas in which a lot of nectar can be found very attractive. You may lure the butterflies into the house by putting a few twigs of stinging nettle or lavender inside. The scent will attract butterflies to the location to make them aware of a dry hideout and a place for nesting and overwintering.

Please note:

1. Hang the Gardigo Butterfly House in a sunny spot, sheltered from wind and rain.
2. The entrance of the house should ideally face south.
3. Leave the house hanging in winter. Butterflies might be nesting and overwintering in it.
4. Do not varnish or paint the Gardigo Butterfly House. The solvents or the paint might be harmful for the animals. The insects will also not like the smell and avoid using the house.
